Hyperion Books Fact Sheet

Hyperion Books publishes fiction and non-fiction titles for adults under several editorial imprints, including Hyperion, Voice, ABC Daytime Press and Miramax Books. Hyperion publishes more than 100 hardcover and paperback books a year, and offers many of its titles as e-books and as audiobooks through its Hyperion Audio division. Founded in 1991, Hyperion is part of the Disney/ABC Television Group, a division of The Walt Disney Company.

Bestsellers:

Hyperion's bestselling titles include Randy Pausch's The Last Lecture with more than four million copies currently in print, Mitch Albom's New York Times bestselling novels The Five People You Meet in Heaven and For One More Day, Michael J. Fox's Always Looking Up and Lucky Man, Caroline Kennedy's A Family Christmas, as well as new cookbooks by celebrity chefs Jamie Oliver and Nigella Lawson.

Upcoming Releases:

Later in 2009, Hyperion will release Dean Koontz's memoir A Big, Little Life, Mitch Albom's first non-fiction title in twelve years, Have a Little Faith, Eoin Colfer's And Another Thing..., as well as Game Six by Mark Frost.

Voice:

Voice, an imprint which publishes fiction and non-fiction books by and about women, has already published such bestsellers as Leslie Bennetts' The Feminine Mistake, Kelly Corrigan's The Middle Place and Lauren Groff's The Monsters of Templeton. Voice will publish Candace Bushnell's new paperback, One Fifth Avenue, in Summer 2009 and Anita Renfroe's Don't Say I Didn't Warn You in Fall 2009.

Disney/ABC Titles:

The synergy of Disney and ABC's networks, studios and distributors extends to Hyperion. Recently, the publisher introduced Extreme Makeover Home Edition: The Official Companion Book, an in-depth, behind-the-scenes look at the hit reality series, Charm!, a New York Times bestselling novel inspired by ABC's "All My Children," The Diva Code by Miss Piggy, the most glamorous Muppet, and Cook Yourself Thin, based on the new Lifetime Television reality series.
